THE INDIVIDUAL

There are so many of us, now, that an individual finds himself wrapped up with others by coincidence if not by collective attitude of what an individual is.

Seniors of these 1972 high school classes will be faced with this problem more than ever after they accept the diploma of 12 years of classes.

Young people now are trying hard in complex circumstances to know what they are, what they have been so they will have control over what they become, if that is possible.

The basic changes of the modern world have been introduced in technical, social and institutional alteration. Youngsters of this age will face the dilemma of having to make sense out of it all.

When a graduate walks across to accept that diploma, literally hundreds of "eminences" walk with him: His parents and family, if any, the teachers and associates, the authority of local church and city and civic organization, his friends (a circle as wide as his activity) and passing acquaintances who contribute to his image.

Which is he more like, or is he a composite none would recognize, except by physical similarity, of all or many of these influences?

At 17 or 18, it is difficult to say. Promise, even after 12 years of schooling is only part of the answer. It is one thing to compete within the congenial atmosphere of small communities and city environment and another to face tests in a less congenial and vastly more numbered world.

From this class, like most of the classes of the past generation, the graduates will have to find that out far from where they grew up. For most will have somewhere else after college or technical school or whatever follows graduation. A larger number is staying behind as the cities become less attractive, but it is almost always less than half of a class.

Young people from small towns and rural areas have a more stable background and probably adapt more to the rigors of competition, if they are prepared in attitude. And if they could, they would rather stay in a similar place, assuming their talents are developed and rewarded.

One thing will help the individual, the composite of all those shadowy "eminences" walking beside him graduation night. And that is for him to know that whatever advantage he thinks he has or whatever limitation he apparently endures may not at all be an advantage or limitation in a few years.

Roles can change quickly, by plan or by accident. And the real individual among us, the one who pulls enough of himself together from all those walking beside him, may well be the one who surprises no one but himself for what comes later. Or he may be the one who surprises everybody but himself because he just needed the right time and place to come into his own.

We can do so much for one another and that is all. If the individual has it, numbers alone simply will not make the difference. The man, or the woman in you, will.

Folk Fete To Offer Wide Musical Variety

A wide range of sounds for music lovers will be heard this year at the June 9-10 Folk Fete, most of it performed in the pavilion at City Park.

The sounds will include Czech, rock and country-western along with special sounds from the Regeneration Singers of Rockdale, a 40-member youth group.

The group will appear Friday from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at the park.

Music preceding the singers that day will be by the Funkadelics, who will be playing in the pavilion from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The popular group was a feature of previous Folk Fetes.

Friday night's music will include that of Miss Gloria Ribbeck, who will play Czech numbers on her accordion during the program at Yoe Field, which gets underway at 8 p.m. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Folk Fete Queen.

Saturday the music from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. will be country western, played at the park by Jerry Haisler and his Melody Five.

Saturday night there will be two dances, one at City Park and the other on East Sixth Street between Lamar and Milam. The Funkadelics will play for the dance at the park and the Muchachos, from Houston, will play for the Sixth St. dance. Both will be from 6 until 10 p.m.

Fiddlers will be heard at the park Saturday when the old fiddlers contest is held at 1 p.m. Some of the contestants will come with bands, which will be set up in the park. Mark Towery will MC the contest and will be assisted by John Dodd of Milano and Hardie Ellison of Cameron.

FRIDAY PROGRAM

At Yoe Field Friday night, Pete McCabe will MC the finals of the Folk Fete beauty contest, when the queen will be chosen from among seven finalists.

Police Report

City police arrested two minors Saturday night, charging one with possession of dangerous drugs in Justice of the Peace Jess Brock's court, and the other with minor in possession of alcoholic beverages.

The beauty contest will be held from 1-4 p.m. at the park.

After the crowning, a dramatic reading, "Creation," will be given by Nelson Cooke of Waco. This will be followed by the song, "What the World Needs Now," by Calvin Williams of Cameron.

Czech music will be played by Miss Ribbeck. She will be followed by the "Roaring 20s" dancers, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Sapp.

Next will be the Mexican - American dancers, 30 strong and ranging in age from 8 to 14, directed by Connie Lara of Houston.

The "Dancers of '72" will perform, under the direction of Nelson and Bobby Joyce Cook of Houston. This is a modern dance group.

Fiddling and singing will be next on the program, provided by Archie Simmons & Son, a country-western group. The finale will be provided by the German dancers, directed by Charles Kunz.

SATURDAY

The Folk Fete parade will start that day's events at 10 a.m. through downtown Cameron, providing bands, Shrine groups, floats, and the Queen and her court, among others.

The Folk Fete tour on Saturday will include antiques at the Norris Rogers home, the All Saints Episcopal Church, Wied's Hardware, Ondrej's Blacksmith Shop, the James Brock studio, and the Emory Camp home.

A domino tournament will start at 11 a.m. at the park, under the direction of P. B. Tucker of Cameron and H. A. Weems of Rockdale.

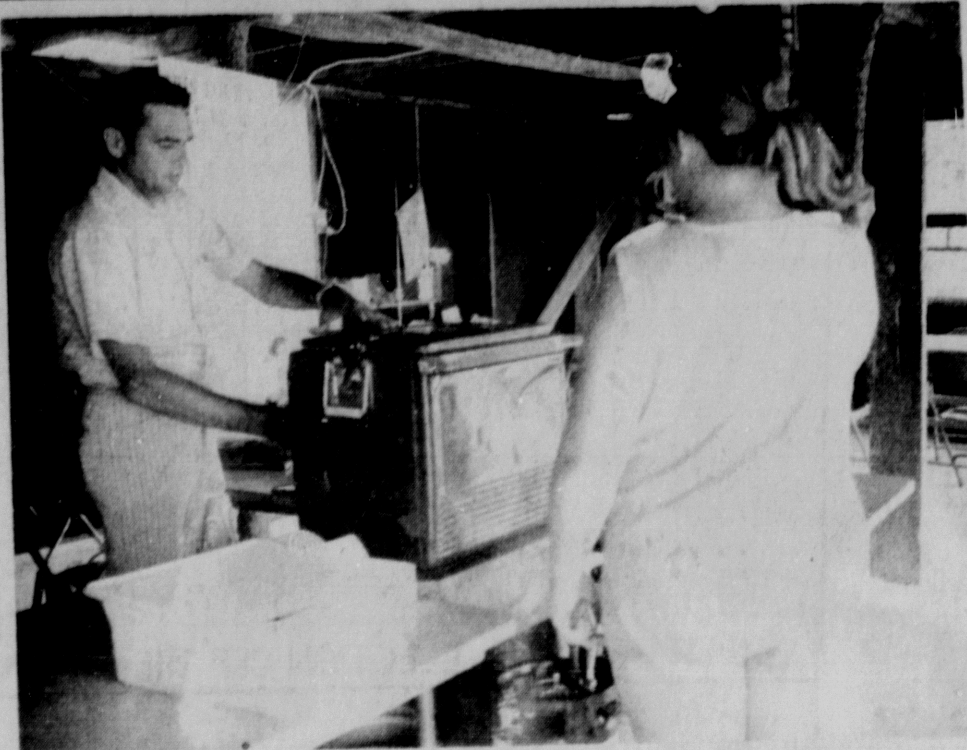

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

Ethnic food booths in the park will open at 10 a.m. each day and stay open until 10 p.m. A wide variety of good things to eat will be available.

Arts and crafts will be displayed both days at the park, and art exhibits will be shown at the library. Also on display at the library will be a collection of antique wedding dresses.

Wide publicity for the Fete continues, with the German dancers appearing on Channel 7, Austin, June 2 on Woman's World. Mayor Gene Blake will be narrator.

On June 6 the Czech dancers will perform on KWTX Ten Acres show at 12 noon. Frank Luecke will be narrator.

REACT member Jimmy Price serves a cold drink to one of the 1000-plus who paused at the REACT rest stop during the Memorial Day weekend. The rest stop provided cold drinks, coffee and cookies to tired travelers along the highway, who passed through from far and near.

Friendship Homecoming

The Friendship community is readying for its annual Homecoming, with former residents and friends expected to arrive Sunday from all over the country.

Special services are planned at the Friendship Methodist Church beginning at 11 a.m. Dinner on the grounds will follow.

According to The Herald's Friendship correspondent, Mrs. Leroy Guillote, the Friendship Methodist Church was organized 100 years ago this summer in the little community, which is about five miles east of Davilla, on a dirt road which was then little more than a cow trail. The log school house was used as the church at first.

"Methodism was not very well established in Texas then, as Texas was a comparatively new state. Circuit riders and visiting preachers served the little church, coming in cold and heat, rain and dust, and riding many weary miles to bring spiritual food for the pioneers," the story goes.

The school house had been built in 1872 and was used as the church until 1884, when the church was built on its present site. Some of the first families settled in Friendship were the Grahams, Looneys, Walkers, Masseys, McQuarys, Fowlers, Neils, Hardys, Robertsons, Doggetts, Stricklands, Keiths and many more.

The land and land for adjoining cemetery was given by the elder Graham, for the now historic little church.

Over 69 years ago, memorial services were begun. The services are in memory of the ones who have lived in Friendship and in memory and honor of the ones who really founded the community.

Members who have gone out from the church try to come back for the occasion and their children and grandchildren come. For the last few years some who have gone from the community are asked to make the memorial address. This year Mrs. Myrta Rhodes, room mother and student at Wharton Junior College will present the address.

Phillips To Move, Kruse Will Be Assistant Agent

Danny Phillips, assistant county agent in Milam County, is being promoted to Associate County Agent in Travis County effective June 1.

The new assistant county agent will be Rodney Kruse, 22, a native of McGregor.

Kruse will move to Cameron from Gatesville, where he has been working with the Farmers Home Administration. He also worked with the FHA at Groesbeck.

He graduated from McGregor High School and received a degree in agriculture and economics from Texas A&M University. Kruse, who will be working with the county's 4-H program, was in the 4-H Club for about ten years, and was named the Gold Star Boy. He also attended the 4-H Roundup.

He will assume his new duties here on June 16.

Runoff Election Set Saturday

Polls will be open Saturday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. for voting in the state's runoff election. All voting places will be the same as they were for the first primary election.

Cameron Precinct 2 voters will vote at the Yoe High Homemaking building and Precinct 1 voters will vote at the courthouse.

The Democratic runoff ballot lists candidates for seven offices, headed by Barefoot Sanders and Ralph W. Yarbrough for United States Senator.

In the Democratic runoff for governor, Dolph Briscoe and Mrs. Frances Farenthold are listed. Wayne W. Connally and Bill Hobby are listed for lieutenant governor.

Robert S. Calvert is in the runoff opposite James (Jim) Wilson.

In country runoffs, Albert W. (Red) Abel is in the runoff for commissioner of Precinct No. 1 against Adolph Gresak.

For county commissioner, Precinct No. 3, R. C. (Red) Richards is running against Gerald (Bigun) Vinton.

And in the constable, Precinct No. 1 runoff are Claude C. Bailey and J. M. Terry.

GOP Voters To See Short Runoff Ballot

A runoff election will be held by the Milam County Republican Party on Saturday, June 3, County Chairman J. Estel Johnston has announced.

Polling places will be at the same locations as they were for the Party's primary election last month -- at the Ben Milam School cafeteria in Cameron and at the Rockdale High School cafeteria in Rockdale. They will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

North Milam County voters will cast their ballots at the Cameron box and south Milam voters at the Rockdale polling place. But since there is no dividing line, a resident of any section of the county may vote at whichever location is more convenient.

Ballots in the GOP runoff will list only the names of the two candidates in the race for Governor -- Henry C. (Hank) Grover and Albert B. Fay. Whichever wins the nomination Saturday will face the winner of the Democrat Party's runoff between Dolph Briscoe and Frances (Sissy) Farenthold in the general election in November.

One-Car Accident Kills Lott Man

A one-car accident Tuesday afternoon near Waco on Highway 77 took the life of Adolph Kuba of Lott and seriously injured his wife. Investigating patrolmen said the car apparently went out of control and left the road, turning over.

Funeral service will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday morning for Mr. Kuba at St. Joseph Catholic Church at Cycolone.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Kuba of Lott; two daughters, Mrs. Annie Mae Cooper of Austin and Mrs. Irene Kopriva of Temple; one brother and five sisters.

Marek - Burns - Laywell Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Brock Studio, Home On Fete Tour

Work by James Brock, Western artist, has been a major feature of Cameron's Folk Fete for the past two years. For Folk Fete '72 it takes on new interest because it will be displayed where it is created at the artist's studio and foundry north of Cameron.

The Brock home will also be open for the Folk Fete Tour and wood carvings, sculptures and oil paintings by some of the southwest's outstanding artists will be on display there.

Folk Fete visitors will travel up a gravel road past pastures and corral to the red-painted Brock studio and gallery. A 5 1/2 foot Indian head carved by Brock from a cedar tree trunk guards the entrance. Inside, visitors will view three rooms of paintings, black and white sketches and sculptures in both wax and bronze form. A special display will show the intricate process that transforms a wax sculpture to the permanent bronze cast.

Across the road Folk Fete guests will tour the Brock foundry where small sculptures are cast. The foundry includes an oven, foundry furnace and sanding room.

Brock, who has been recognized as a major western artist in recent years, works from a background of experience as a cowboy, professional rodeo rider and trainer of rodeo horses. Art has long been an interest, but sketches of rodeo scenes and wood carvings were only a hobby by until about 9 years ago. His first bronze was cast in 1968 and since that time more than 150 bronze sculptures have been sold to private collectors across the country.

Brock's work is featured at the Dodson Gallery in Taos, New Mexico. This is also where his larger sculptures are cast.

More than 100 wax and bronze sculptures will be displayed at the gallery, studio and house. Other artists represented include Dirk Van Driest, Arthur Merriel, Thelma Dodson, Joseph Fleck, Wesley Speer, Jack Carroll and Kelley Pruitt.

LOCAL ARTIST and sculptor James Brock shows his casting technique at the foundry near his Cameron studio. The studio and Brock home will be one of the highlights of this year's Folk Fete, June 9 and 10.

The Moscow Watershed...

Debate will continue through the summer on the impact of the President's Moscow summit, whether the SALT agreement is a plus or minus in defusing a hydrogenated world.

The Moscow summit is a watershed for cooling future Vietnams, where the idealogies of the two super powers inevitably confront if only by indirection.

The signatories to the agreement on principles agreed one another enough loopholes to enable both powers to sign. The Russians like to have outlines along which to pace their system. And President Nixon wanted, though he hesitated for a time, to sign until it was apparent the SALT agreement would be completed, the major goal of the Moscow journey.

What is most interesting is the comment of correspondents covering sidebar events during the summit. They found no average Russian citizens spouting dogma or "polemics", according to one observer.

Somehow, the Russian people identify with the work ethic of the American people, one that has been changing substantially in recent years. The Russian people dress better and appear much as you would expect people to appear in any American city and town.

The two countries have grown toward one another among the people.

Criticism is forthcoming on the SALT formulas for stopping the missile race at U. S. disadvantages. It is finally an historic effort to level off the insane nuclear arms race which has been underway since 1947.

Each country has somewhere between 2,500 and 5,000 warheads. It is a moot point since it would only take a couple hundred combined to devastate most of metropolitan U. S. and Russia, where 70 percent of the American people live on 1 per cent of the land for example.

The timing politically for Mr. Nixon is excellent. The Democratic candidates are hurriedly gathering at George Wallace's bedside in a show of unanimity as the polls and primaries show the Muskie-Humphrey - McGovern - Kennedy-Wallace contention in disarray.

But the Moscow summit went well for ringing out misconceptions between two powers dating from World War II, quite different world, which went not at all for any settlement of the Vietnam issue, and which went into history as the first time an American president spoke to the Russian people over Russian television while an American flag flew over the Kremlin.

Dateline Austin...

Gov. Smith Calls Session, Promises No New Taxes

By Bill Boykin

The long-awaited special session of the Texas Legislature has been called for 10 a.m. June 14.

Gov. Preston Smith issued the official proclamation last week, stating repeatedly he plans to present a 1973 budget which will require no new taxes.

The governor, who has implied he would veto a tax bill, said he does not think lawmakers can pass one without his placing the subject of revenue on the special session agenda.

Under the proclamation, Smith will allow legislators to consider "such other subjects as the governor may submit from time to time."

However, he made clear he does not plan to open the call to any other business until the 1973 budget -- financing state operations from Sept. 1, 1972 - August 31, 1973 -- is finally passed.

Smith vetoed all 1973 fiscal year appropriations adopted by the legislature during the 1971 regular session. In anticipation of more federal aid (that never was received), the legislature did not enact a 1973 welfare budget -- which made a special session inevitable even without the governor's veto.

A proposed state officials' code of ethics and a recommendation for repeal of a controversial new trailer brake law are among items to be offered the special session for action after passage of the appropriations act.

There is some speculation Smith may try to avoid the need for new taxes by proposing a welfare program finance act covering less than a full fiscal year. This would leave the balance of 1973 welfare appropriations as emergency business for the regular session next year.

COURTS SPEAK

The State Supreme Court dismissed the appeal of a Dallas man who sought a reduction of the $250,000 fee awarded his ex-wife's attorneys in a divorce action.

The High Court upheld a Houston court of civil appeals finding that high fees collected by a woman in an insurance case were the result of the insurance company's prolonging litigation. National Life Insurance Company protested that legal fees ran five times as much as the insured collected.

In another case, the Supreme Court agreed that the state was immune from damages after a blind San Antonio boy drowned in a Texas State Pool for the Blind pool.

PARTY SWITCHING

Secretary of State Bob Bullock issued a runoff election voters must "stay in the party primary where they voted on May 6."

Bullock said Republicans who voted in the GOP first primary or Democrats who voted in their own May 6 primary cannot switch and participate in the other party's runoff primary.

If violations are discovered, said Bullock, they will be turned over to prosecuting authorities. It is also a violation, of course, for voters to cast ballots in two different precincts, within the same party, reminded the chief state election officer.

BONDS SOLD - A total of $25 million in bonds have been sold to municipalities under the state's new financial assistance program for improvement or construction of sewage treatment facilities.

Texas Water Quality Board reported it has received 106 applications for loans of water quality enhancement funds amounting to $28.77 million, and 72 applications totalling $24.63 million have been approved. Thirty-four applications are pending in the amount of $4.1 million, and $4.2 million has been transferred to 16 projects where bids have been approved and cities are ready to start construction. Loans went to Atlanta, Borger, Clarksville City, Cleburne, Conroe, Dallas (four projects), Iowa Park, Mineral Wells, Montgomery County FWSD No. 2, Nueces County WCID No. 4, Rosenberg, Seagoville and Wortham.

The program makes it possible for cities to make improvements at about 25 per cent of project costs to themselves. Bonds provide the state's share, and the federal government pays the rest.

AG OPINIONS

A $1 special fee is applicable to all delinquent tax receipts and certificates issued by county tax assessor-collectors for special districts and should be included in a 'state cost' item on forms furnished by the comptroller, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded: * A requirement that portions of tuition fees be placed in a scholarship fund applicable to charges for vocational - technical courses at public junior colleges. Up to 10 per cent of the fund may be paid to out-of-state students.

* Collin - Denton County Water and Sanitation District has constitutional power to collect and dispose of garbage.

GUARD CALLED OUT

National Guard units from San Antonio and Austin were called out by the governor in a pilot traffic safety effort over the Memorial Day weekend.

The Guardsmen rode as second man in highway patrol cars or manned Guard trucks and jeeps on "life-saving" patrol.

If the experiment proves successful, Smith said he may call Guard units to special duty during other holiday weekends.

Meanwhile, law enforcement officers and traffic court judges were urged to "handle traffic violators in the full measure which our laws provide."

LEGISLATORS HIT - A former state legislator received a four-year prison sentence for using state stamps to buy a second-hand pickup truck, and four other present or former lawmakers were indicted.

Ex-Rep. Walter Knapp of Amarillo drew the prison sentence. Former Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford and Rep. John Allen of Longview were indicted in a scheme to hire each other's children as legislative aides without requiring them to work. Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury faced indictment for allegedly using House of Representatives-issued postage stamps to pay most of the price of a pickup truck. Former Rep. Hudson Moyer of Amarillo faces accusation of using House postage stamps to pay off a $6,000 bank loan.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith, who prosecuted former House Speaker Gus Mutscher, handled all the investigations and vowed to crack down on any legislator who gets out of line if he can make a case.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I was out walking along a country road yesterday and just to be doing something started counting the empty cans and bottles people had thrown out of their cars. In fifty yards on one side of the road only I found 36.

No use figuring up how many that'd come to, multiplied by the thousands and thousands of miles of roads in the country, but everybody knows it's up in the billions.

And I got to thinking, regardless of the efforts being made to put a stop to this, by everybody from the environmentalists to the Boy Scouts, Congress and probably the pulpit, apparently people just aren't going to stop doing it. Empty a can or bottle and fling it out the window. Just one won't matter.

Therefore, a way has got to be figured out to stop it. First, I thought I had a good idea: require cans or bottles to have a ring attached and chain them to the wrist of any customer leaving with one in his hand. Leaving with more than one? Make a sort of daisy chain and let him go rattling out. But I soon saw that won't work. Clerks would spend half their time unlocking cans and customers returned to be freed.

Then it hit me. Make it a $200 fine from one end of the country to the other to throw a can or bottle out of a car. You say, lots of states already have such a fine and the throwing continues? Keep following me. Next, fingerprint everybody in the U.S., from one-year-olds on up, and put the prints on file in a giant computer. Then when highway workers pickup up the cans and bottles, all they'd have to do is lift the fingerprints, send them to the computer, and in a few seconds have the name and address of the can-or-bottle-thrower.

At $200 a can, with say five billion cans being thrown a year, that'd come to $1,000,000,000,000, which I think is a trillion.

In one fell swoop we'd do one of two things: either clean up the can-throwing habit, or clean up the national debt and have some left over to go into debt with again next year.

Any man shows up in a place wearing gloves, follow him.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

WE DO CARE

REP. WILLIAM E. MINSHALL (Ohio) "... It is with the greatest pride that I salute the WE DO CARE Committee of Fairview Park, Ohio, which over the last few years has done such a noble job of keeping in touch with U.S. servicemen through newsletters, cards, and packages.

"Mrs. Harriet Beekman, the WE DO CARE chairman, has sent me a heartwarming letter and copies of the many messages her committee has received from the grateful recipients of the committee's endeavors. . . ." (Excerpts from Mrs. Beekman's letter follow. Excerpts from letters received from servicemen to the WE DO CARE committee filled three pages of the Congressional Record.)

Hon. William Minshall, Ohio Congressman, House Office Building, Washington, D.C.

Dear Congressman Minshall: It is my personal opinion that it is unbelievable that any people back here can protest the action taken to save our beloved Americans in Vietnam. To leave them at the mercy of the communists is deplorable. I know that our President and members of Congress who put the safety of our young heroes first are putting their careers on the line. God bless them.

Every time our young men have won a victory in Vietnam, some of the politicians and people have taken it away from them back here. I will not forget that some of the self-glory seeking politicians today are yelling because we are bombing supplies in order to try and save these brave loyal Americans from being killed -- or worse -- captured.

To date we have mailed over 8,000 packages to the war area. Each one LARGE ENOUGH TO BE SHARED WITH MANY BUDDIES. We mailed over 40,000 newsletters and cards. We will continue to mail this love and moral support just as long as we are needed.

God bless our country and help her to remain free. You and I know she is the greatest country in the world! I just wish we could get the "un-American thinking people" to help instead of destroying her.

Thank you again for your help.

Sincerely,
Harriet Beekman,
WE DO CARE Chairman.

CRUMP'S COMMENT

The packages will benefit servicemen from every State as the units in South Vietnam are composed of men from every section of the country. We quote AFL-CIO President George Meany, "In this time of crisis, with 60,000 lives at stake, I think the American people should back up the President, irrespective of politics or other considerations."

VA Reports Big Increase In GI Loans

Forecasts that 1972 would be a big year for GI home loans were borne out during the first three months as 1971 first quarter records were topped by 123 percent.

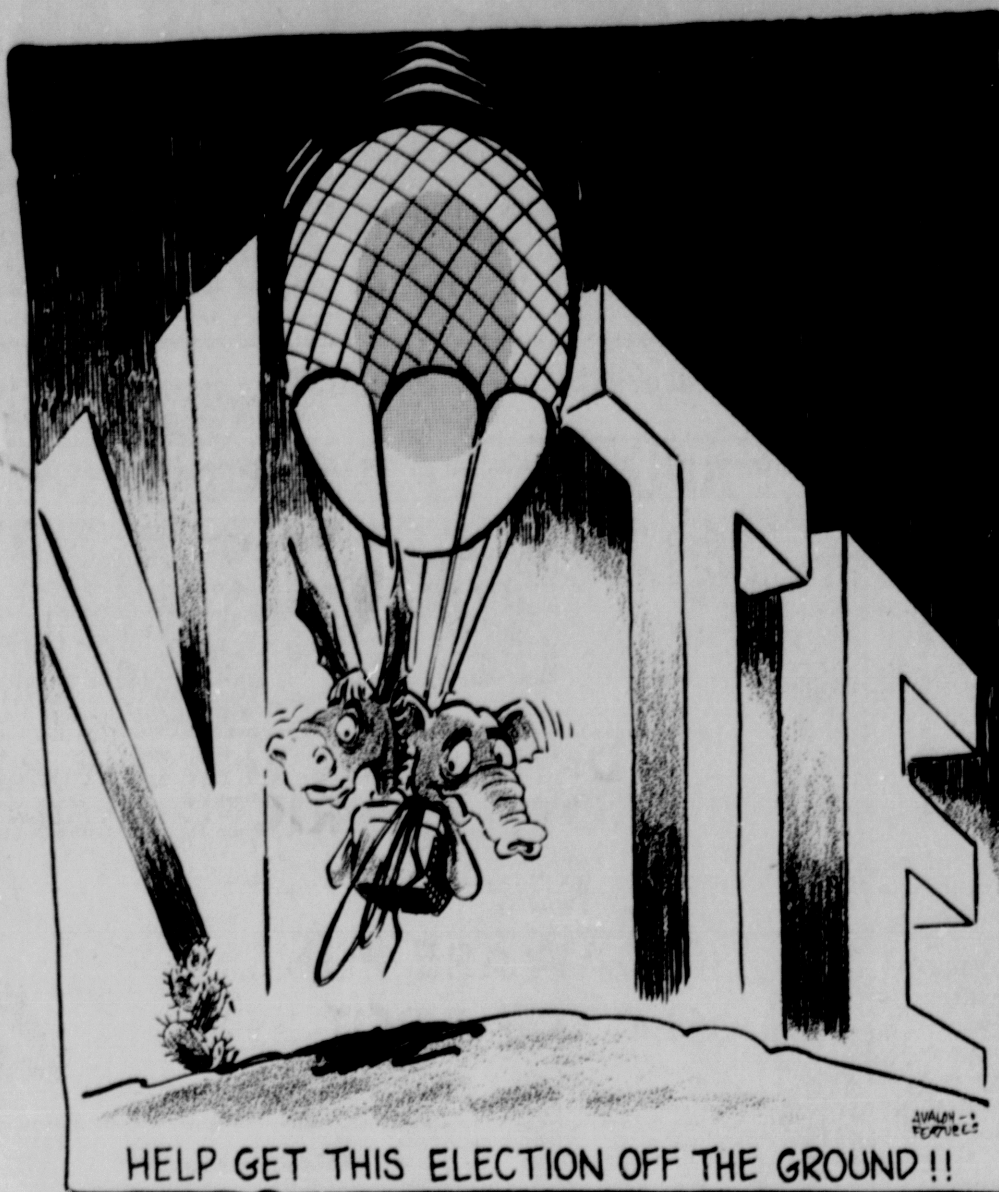

Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, reported that the Veterans Administration guaranteed 91,200 loans during January, February and March of this year compared to 40,900 during the same period last year.

Loans during March reached 33,100 which was 13 percent over February 1972 and 129 percent over March 1971.

Applications for loans continued to come in at a brisk pace during the quarter as did requests for VA appraisals of homes. Requests leveled off for certificates of eligibility to buy homes with VA guaranteed loans.

Applications received during the first three months totaled 89,800 for a 43 percent increase, and the March figure of 36,000 was 34 percent up from February and 22 percent over March 1971.

Appraisal requests for the quarter, at 173,500, were up 18 percent over last year, and the March figure of 69,700 was 22 percent up from February and six percent over March 1971.

Control Measures Needed For Weeds In Cotton Field

Co-operators and land-users should check their waterways for any needed repair.

Where gullies have eroded the waterway shaping and repair should be done prior to sodding the eroded areas.

Fertilization of the waterway is a good maintenance practice to help insure sufficient grass cover to prevent erosion, where possible. Areas that require shaping and sodding should be fertilized with a double rate of fertilizer to encourage a dense cover of grass, as soon as possible.

Weeds and other competitive plants should be controlled on repaired areas of the waterway until a good grass cover is obtained.

Assistance is available to help you determine any needed repair or maintenance work you may have on your waterways.

Contact your local Soil Conservation Service office for assistance on any conservation work you may need.

With recent moisture in many sections of the state, this year's cotton crop should get off to a good start. But weeds and grasses will also come on strong unless control measures are taken.

"Use of post-emergence herbicides to control weeds and grasses in cotton is highly effective," notes Fred Elliott, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

For three-inch tall cotton, the Texas A&M University specialist recommends these combinations of materials -- MSMA plus surfactant, DSMA plus surfactant, MSMA plus surfactant and fluometuron (Cotoran plus), and MSMA plus surfactant and norea (Herban 62).

Once cotton reaches the six-inch stage, these same materials plus several others are effective in controlling weeds and grasses. The additional herbicides are diuron (Karmex) plus surfactant, MSMA plus surfactant and diuron, and MSMA plus surfactant and prometryne (Caparol).

"All these materials are approved for use on cotton and should be applied as a directed spray," points out Elliott. "For best results, apply herbicides when weeds are small. Sometimes two applications may be needed, a week to 10 days apart."

MSMA and DSMA plus any mixtures containing these chemicals should not be used after cotton begins to bloom, cautions the specialist.

Where Johnsongrass is a problem, either MSMA or DSMA used alone is effective. However, to control broadleaf weeds and grasses, the mixtures listed above should be used, points out Elliott.

The specialist reminds cotton producers to consider cultivation in their weed control program. "Shallow sweep cultivation and the use of a rotary hoe are still our most effective weed control methods. And, there is no chemical residue."

Seniors in Supermarkets

Shopping needs of senior citizens are getting more attention as the over-65 group has become the fastest growing segment of this nation's population. High on the list is a need for package sizes smaller than the usual family-size prepacks. The one or two-person family also wants to be able to buy two or three pork chops in a pack, a half-pound of ground beef or a smaller package of produce.

County Agent's Notes

County Insect Report

By Bill McCutchen
Milam County Agent

Charles Cole, area entomologist from A&M, was in the county May 25th and helped check corn, milo, cotton and pecan insects.

A heavy infestation of the Northern Corn Rootworm was noted on the Bud Johnson farm in the Yarrelton Community. This insect builds up after continued cropping to corn and can be controlled by crop rotation or soil treatment at or prior to planting.

Bud has some TAMCOT SP 38 cotton planted this year and is quite proud of it at this stage as it is fruiting up quicker than his normal varieties.

Bud said that he would pass judgement in the Fall. Boll weevil punctures were noted in many fields checked and most farmers are using Guthion to check this overwintered population if it appears necessary.

Fleahoppers are showing up in moderate numbers in untreated fields. Rains have improved the quality of preferred hosts and in some areas fleahopper numbers are declining. Cotton in most of the county is at the stage where fleahoppers can cause extensive damage. Be sure to check fields closely for fleahoppers during the next two weeks.

Bollworms are cyclic in their reproduction and are phased with the lunar cycle. This enables us to accurately predict the times when peak egg laying will occur in cotton fields. Charles Cole says that the predicted dates of rapid increase in bollworm eggs in cotton should occur:

- (1) June 28 - July 2, (2) July 28 - August 1, and (3) August 26 - August 30.

Bollworms in prebloom cotton should not be controlled as they cause no economic damage.

Sorghum midge - should not be too much of a problem this year as most of the grain sorghum is early and about the same stage throughout the county. Most milo is either in the bloom stage or further along at this time and should not be damaged.

Charles Camp, of the San Gabriel Community got excellent control of the Pecan Nut Casebearer and the black and yellow pecan aphid and fall webworms with Zolone. Zolone is a newly approved material with wide spectrum control.

Terry Hardwick is conducting a result demonstration on his trees comparing Zolone to his present pecan insect control program.

The pecan crop, at this point looks excellent and I would encourage producers to spend a little money in protecting their crop against insects and pecan scab.

LAWN SLIME MOLD
Recent rainy weather has brought an influx of slime molds on some lawns in the Rockdale area. The molds appear as bluish-gray, black or yellow masses in small areas over the surface of the lawn. They are not parasitic on grass as they live on dead organic matter. The only damage they do is to shade and temporarily discolor the grass.

The molds will become powdery masses and soon disappear once dry weather returns. Slime molds are easily removed from the grass by mowing, sweeping with a broom or spraying with a stream of water.

Support Payments May Drop

Farmers receiving maximum amounts in government support payments should expect to see them chopped by as much as 60 or 80 per cent in 1974.

This is the studied opinion of Dr. Clive R. Harston of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Texas A&M University.

"It is inevitable that the limitation will be lowered with the next farm bill, which is being drafted now," he said. "The question will only be by how much."

Harston, a specialist in agricultural policy in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology, explained that a farmer is currently limited to receiving no more than $55,000 in payments for each crop program.

HASH BROWNS

In Canada, one would have to consume nearly a half-pound of white potatoes a day to keep up with the average annual consumption rate as noted by the Canada Department of Agriculture.

Crop Acre Survey In Mail... Cattle Sales Decline... Poultry Reports Issued... State Grain Sorghum Acreages Given... Annual Report Ready... Rural Development Plans.

About 22,000 Texas farmers are to receive crop acre survey questionnaires from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. If you are one of those, please fill out the form as accurately as possible and return it as soon as possible.

Such questionnaires form the basis of statistical reports on agriculture for the state of Texas. The report will be only as accurate as the replies, and it will be only as conclusive as the number of replies. Accurate information is needed since many of the federal government farm programs are based on these reports.

Texas also provides county-by-county statistics on agriculture production. You can receive a copy for your county or for the entire state by writing to the Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT on a state level is rapidly gaining momentum. State committees on rural development are formed and will begin work relating to actual rural development programs. In the national Congress, a conference committee is still working on federal rural development. Conferees have made substantial progress, but final action won't be taken until after the upcoming congressional recess. A final conference report is expected soon after Congress reconvenes for final approval for the House and Senate and then to the President for his signature.

INCREASES IN broiler chicks and turkey poults hatched in Texas are reported. Broiler placements were 13 per cent above the corresponding week last year but one per cent below the previous week.

An increase of 12 per cent in heavy turkey breed poults hatched was reported compared to the same week of 1971 but 12 per cent under the previous week. Hatchings are for week ending May 13.

THREE CROP reporting districts of Texas planted more than 1,000,000 acres of grain sorghum each last year. District 1-N (the Panhandle area) led the state in acreage with 1,964,000 acres; district 1-S (the High Plains area) was second with 1,330,000 acres. The Blacklands of the state were third with 1,005,000 acres planted. Lowest acreage in the state was district 6 (far west Texas) with 29,000 acres.

The total acres planted to grain sorghum in Texas in 1971 was 7,641,000. Of this amount, 5,827,000 was actually harvested with an average yield of 52 bushels per acre. That comes out to a whopping 303,004,000 bushels for all of the state.

CATTLE AND CALVES marketed in Texas during April numbered 511,000 head, which is 19 per cent below a year ago but 13 per cent above a month ago.

Sheep sales at livestock auctions were 14 per cent below a year ago but 87 per cent above a month ago. Total was 127,000 head. Goats sold at 40,000 head were 17 per cent below a year ago but 43 per cent above last month.

Hogs sold at 50,000 were six per cent below a year ago and 15 per cent below a month ago.

THE 1971-72 REPORT of the Texas Department of Agriculture is now available. You can receive a copy by writing to the Department. Included are summaries of activities of TDA in areas of environmental quality, marketing, rural development and consumer protection.

Fashions Reflect Current Social Change

Discover an unlikely barometer and current guide to social change by turning to the fashion pages of the women's section of current newspapers and magazines.

"There you'll see fashions and fabrics reflecting the current world situations, moods and trends," noted Roxanne Schnorr of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University. "Fashions have become a national symbol representing the spirit of America."

The clothing specialist explained that turning back the pages of U.S. fashion history gives illustrative examples. Following World War I, women's dresses became simplified in style. Hems were raised from the floor length found in earlier gowns and skirts.

A reflection? Yes. Women were beginning to enter the work force -- they needed practical styles and lengths to work efficiently. As women started actively participating in sports, freedom and simplicity in clothes was projected to meet the situation.

"In the early 1920's, the bouncy, sleeveless, flat chested dresses in knee lengths pointed out the very beginnings of women's liberation movements," Miss Schnorr said. "Women demanded the right to vote. The growing prosperity and leisurely atmosphere contributed to the new expressiveness and freedom in clothes."

The strict, uniform and untrimmed dresses of the World War II era definitely described the national crisis. The number of women taking jobs in the labor force increased dramatically. Many women took men's jobs. The didn't need or want feminine attire. The simple styles reflected the problem of expensive and rationed materials.

What about today? Are there signs of the national concerns? Miss Schnorr reported that the 1972 fashions provide definite indications of the changing national attitude toward Red China.

"Oriental styles began to infiltrate American fashions at the entrance of Red China to the United National -- long before President Nixon's visit to that country," Miss Schnorr said.

"The ecological movement and the publicity it's had in our society is reflected in clothing as well," the specialist expalined. "Floral and fauna prints, fruit and vegetable accessories and clean, natural colors repeat the desire of the U.S. to retain and preserve the natural environment."

The American theme prevails this year in the extravagant use of red, white and blue and nautical costumes. The national fever to bring the service men home, the cry to spend federal money

Australia Sees Uranium Rush

By David Jensen
Reuter Correspondent

PERTH, Australia — A uranium rush is under way in western Australia as prospectors hurry to stake claims to promising sites. Hundreds of square miles have been claimed by mining companies and individual prospectors since the announcement in January of a major strike of Yellirrie, until then a virtually unheard-of cattle station area about 350 miles northeast of Perth.

Government mining offices were inundated with several hundred claims daily until all the promising areas surrounding Yellirrie had been taken.

Now it has started again. Four Italian-born prospectors mining cooper about 200 miles north of Yellirrie say they have found rich uranium 24 feet below the surface.

One sample is reported to have assayed 25.5 per cent uranium — the equivalent of 570 pounds per long ton.

Yellirrie's assays averaged about three pounds a ton.

The brothers Rolando, Remo and Franco Sabbadini left their home town of Udine in northern Italy 20 years ago.

Six Flags Sets Hours For Summer

Six Flags Over Texas begins daily operation this weekend following a record-setting spring season which saw more than 400,000 persons visiting the family entertainment center.

A record was also set for a single day's attendance when 36,607 persons passed through the turnstiles on May 13.

Beginning this Saturday, Six Flags will be open daily from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. The summer schedule will continue through August 27.

Six Flags' General Manager Robert W. Freeman commented, "To say the least, we are most happy with the terrific public acceptance of our 'new look' and the new attractions at the Park this year."

He added, "The surveys we have made on our parking lots during the spring season indicate an unusually high percentage of out-of-state guests. We feel like this points to a very good tourist season for this part of the country."

According to surveys conducted at the Texas Highway Department's tourist information centers, Six Flags Over Texas ranks as the state's top, single tourist attraction.

Methodist Home Seeking Builder Of Boys Ranch

WACO cattle, machinery, fruit and pecan trees and other gifts. A shop building has been constructed, all-weather roads have been built, electric lines are in place, several miles of fences have been constructed and our new water system is in operation," he added.

"Now, we need someone who would invest about $140,000 in the future of boys to build and furnish the first home unit. Sixteen boys and their homeparents would live there. We could have the building ready for occupancy in the early fall, if the funds become available in the near future," said Mr. Copeland.

"We cordially invite any interested donor to visit with us at Methodist Home and at the new ranch site," he added.

Methodist Home currently cares for some 480 neglected children including 340 on the main campus, 115 in the foster home program and 25 in college. The children are from all areas of Texas and New Mexico.

HIS FEET ARE ON THE GROUND!

This man can see for many, many miles, but he's not up in the clouds; his feet are on the ground!

The Church gives man stability too—a broader vision. It lifts up his eyes to see God and the eternal values of love, truth, justice and service which God inspires. It gives him a divine perspective from which to view his job, his family, his country—his life!

But the Church always keeps that man's feet on the ground! It accepts him for what he is—regardless of the clothes he wears or the job he holds. It looks evil in the face and sees it for what it is—a devilish cancer which only God can cure. It keeps a man's feet on the ground while it lifts up his eyes to see beyond the horizon.

And this is what the Church can do for you! It can give you greater vision. But it's not up in the clouds. It keeps your feet on the ground!

Group Endorses Hobby

The Houston Educator's Political Action Committee announced this week that it endorses Bill Hobby for Lt. Governor in the June 3rd Democratic Primary.

The educators said their endorsement went to Hobby because he has made "the needs of Texas' educational system his number one priority."

"He has consistently shown a sensitivity to the needs of the children of Texas," a spokesman said, "and because he has continually supported efforts to improve the bilingual, vocational and technical education programs of the state."

The spokesman also said that HEPAC applauded Hobby's "concentration on the issues of constitutional reform and a meaningful ethics bill for the state's elected officials."

Connally 'Desperate' Says Hobby

Bill Hobby, candidate for Lt. Governor, said today in response to Wayne Connally's reference to Hobby spanking a neighborhood child over 4 years ago, "This is simply a desperate attempt by my opponent to divert public attention from his unexplained involvement with John Osario, National Bankers Life and the Sharps-town scandal."

Hobby continued by saying that it "simply was a matter of an older neighborhood child physically harming one of my children and as a result I spanked the child. Charges were filed and then dismissed."

"Senator Connally's statement that charges are now pending against me as the result of this incident is false -- and he knows it, because the whole thing is a matter of public record."

Hobby said, "Although I am not surprised that my opponent would resort to this smear in view of his past actions, I am confident the people of Texas will reject my opponent's campaign of slander and smear on election day."

Poage Says Wage Boost Inflationary

The proposal to boost the minimum wage to $2 per hour will mean a substantial increase in the cost of production of everything, Cong. W. R. Poage said in his weekly newsletter.

Many workers can earn $1.50 per hour but not $2, Poage said, and if the law requires that they be paid $2, there is nothing the employer can do except to let them go. "They must then, of necessity depend on public charity for their livelihood."

"In the beginning, we established a minimum wage based upon a real minimum earning capacity," he said. "I believe the first minimum wage provided for 50 cents an hour and I supported it. But now we are talking of establishing a wage in excess of $2 an hour and it will clearly mean that many people will be out of jobs and many business institutions will be forced to close. Generally, these will be small operations -- the kind that built a great America."

Poage said another, oft-times overlooked, effect of a minimum wage is this: an increase in the minimum not only forces employers to pay more to the low-paid workers but any increase at the bottom of the pay scale must push up all wages and must push them up a good deal further at the top of the scale than at the bottom.

"This will inevitably mean a very substantial increase in the cost of the production of everything," Poage said. "That means more inflation and a higher living cost. Surely it does not make sense to talk about holding down prices and at the same time force up the cost of everything you buy."

If a man increases his efficiency so that he now produces two units where he did produce only one, Poage added, he should draw more wages and his higher wages will not result in higher costs.

Farenthold Sees Contrast Between Two Campaigns

Gubernatorial candidate Frances Farenthold said Friday that there is a clear contrast between her campaign and her opponent's campaign for the Democratic run-off.

"I seek only the people's support", Mrs. Farenthold told the press at a "hot seat" luncheon and interview at the Dallas Press Club. "I realize it's high risk politics to be accessible to the people. While I'm out meeting the people and meeting the press, Briscoe is meeting with lobbyists from the nursing home association and the vending machine association."

She referred to a Thursday story in the Dallas News about Briscoe's Harris County activities, and extended the contrast to Briscoe's refusal to debate. She noted that while the Republican candidates in the June 3 run-off appeared together at the Press Club interview, her opponent refused to attend. "There are very important and viable issues to discuss, but all Mr. Briscoe has touched on is the emotional issues," she said. "If he had stayed in law school longer, then perhaps he'd appreciate the value of debate and the importance of accuracy." Briscoe was a member of Mrs. Farenthold's freshman class at the University of Texas Law School in 1946, but reportedly left school after one year.

She hammered hard at Briscoe's pledge to seek no new taxes and his other pledge to fight screw-worms and fire ants.

"He's said screw-worms and fire ants are important and money is needed to eradicate them, but he says no additional tax revenue is necessary," Mrs. Farenthold said. "Where does he propose to get this money?" She pointed out that the Texas Research League has stated that additional State revenue will be needed for the next biennium to pay for built-in budget increases and to keep current programs at their present funding levels.

She said again new revenue must come from a corporation profits tax on big business and challenged Briscoe to explain what he meant by saying additional money could be raised by a "selective sales tax."

Mrs. Farenthold also demanded his positions on public utility regulation and pollution abatement.

The Corpus Christi Democrat pledged to be an active Governor.

"I have always had great respect for the separation of powers," she said, "but in my service in the Legislature there has been no visible leadership from the Governor. I intend to be an activist Governor and list public priorities for the Legislature."

Asked how she felt Briscoe would be, Mrs. Farenthold said, "I sometimes wonder if he would even uphold the tradition of the Governor addressing the Legislature in joint session."

St. Edward Hospital Is Accredited

St. Edward Hospital-Rishcar Memorial received full accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The survey for accreditation was conducted by a team representing the JCAH on March 10.

The purpose of the surveys is to insure that the quality of care given meets standards established by the JCAH. The JCAH is comprised of four national medical and hospital organizations: The American College of Physicians, The American College of Surgeons, The American Hospital Association, The American Medical Association.

The certificate of accreditation is the hallmark of seals -- like "sterling" on silver. "Cameron can be proud to have a hospital that is accredited and this should be a source of confidence in the hospital and those working in it. Any hospital granted the Certificate of Accreditation is telling the citizens that their welfare is entrusted to competent, dedicated persons," a hospital spokesman said.

Vets Repay Home Loans

Veterans are good financial risks, according to Jack Coker, Director of the Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office, in noting the way veterans have repaid their GI Bill home loans.

Coker pointed out that Texas veterans have repaid $1,804,500,000 of the more than $5,349,000,000 in VA guaranteed home loans granted in the state since the World War II GI Bill was enacted.

According to VA records, total GI Bill home loans in Texas through March 1972, numbered 496,000. Of this figure nearly half have been marked paid-in-full.

Nationally more than 50 percent of the nearly eight million GI loans made, amounting to over 87 billion dollars in value, have been repaid.

Veterans of World War II and Korea who served more than 90 days and Vietnam veterans and servicemen who have served at least 181 days are eligible for GI home loans. Also eligible are widows of veterans who died as a result of service-connected disabilities and wives of men missing in action or held prisoners of war.

Calvert Reveals Opponent's Past

AUSTIN State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said today his opponent in the June 3 runoff is a former employee of his department who was fired after violating the law.

"I have refrained until now from making derogatory statements about him because I felt the campaign should be on a higher level than that," Calvert said.

"However, James 'Jim' Wilson has made abusive and misleading charges against me which I cannot allow to go unanswered, in the firm belief that the voters will determine which candidate has the professional and moral integrity to hold public trust."

Wilson has visited newspapers over the state with a story about resigning because of policy disagreements and alleged mismanagement by his superiors.

"I wish to set the record straight. He was asked to resign because of the growing extent of personal problems which interfered with his work and cast reflections on the department."

"My first knowledge of his outside problems came early last November when a reporter for the Austin American called to ask if I was aware of the fact that Jim Wilson had been sentenced to 30 days in jail for aggravated assault on a female."

"The sentence was later reduced to a $500 fine, I understand, but the conviction of a division head on such a count led me to ask for his resignation on November 20, 1971."

"Wilson subsequently made an application for reinstatement. This was refused and now he is seeking my job."

"The decision in November regarding his employment here has been reinforced by an investigation which shows he has had six marriages, four divorces and one annulment."

"Wilson may have gotten into the runoff by accident, but it would be a tragedy for Texas if this unqualified man were 'accidentally' elected."

Cards Down Eagles, 6-5

Sunday at Colonial Field the Cameron Cardinals squeezed by the Hearn Eagles by a score of 6-5. In the bottom of the 10th inning Steamer scored the winning run.

Arthur Rivera relieved Henry Young in the fifth. Catcher for the Cards was Vicente Rivera.

Top hitters were Henry Young and Blass Sorola. The Cards will travel to Hearn Sunday to meet the Eagles there.

Yarborough Raps Sanders Vote On Reform Proposal

Ralph Yarborough, candidate for the U. S. Senate, today disclosed that his run-off opponent, Barefoot Sanders, while in the Texas Legislature, voted in 1957 against a reform proposal that would have required state legislators to disclose their sources of income.

Yarborough said, "My opponent claims to be a candidate for reform and honesty, yet while a member of the Texas House of Representatives in 1957, he voted against a proposal offered as an amendment to the Ethics Bill which would have required that state legislators disclose their sources of income."

"When he had his opportunity to stand up and be counted for reform, full disclosure and legislative honesty, he voted 'no', and by his vote and his example helped kill this reform disclosure amendment in a vote of 59 to 69. In this disclosure act had been passed, instead of being killed with the aid of Barefoot Sanders, the Sharpstown bank fraud and scandal might never have happened. Barefoot Sanders was weighed on the legislative scales and found wanting."

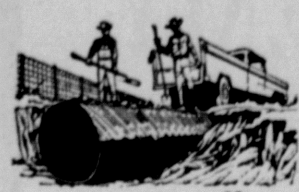

"I, too, had my chance to vote on the Ethics Bill; and I supported, worked for, and voted for the Senate Ethics and Disclosure Bill of 1968, which requires that U. S. Senators disclose their incomes, gift received, royalties from writing books or magazine articles, or lecture fees, and I strictly adhered to its provisions."

The Good Old Days?

How would you like to have livestock and meat prices rolled back to where they were 20 years ago? Sound good? But what about rolling back income as well? The average breadwinner, while paying some 30 percent less for meat would find that his take-home pay had been cut to less than half of what it is today! On the other hand, livestock producers would be getting very little less than they are today... since cattle and hog prices have increased only 20 percent in the past two decades. In the same period personal disposable income of the average American consumer has increased 149 percent.

VOTE FOR PERFORMANCE

There is no margin for error in an office that must guarantee the biennial fiscal solvency of the state--balancing billions in receipts to payments each year. Bob Calvert has built a tax accounting system that is considered a model for study by other states. During 23 years as Comptroller, he has an unblemished record of remarkable public service.

VOTE FOR EFFICIENCY

Bob Calvert has continually modernized operations to provide greater service at lowest cost. The electronic data-processing equipment he installed is recognized as one of the most sophisticated and efficient computer systems in the nation.

VOTE FOR CONFIDENCE

Under Bob Calvert, the Comptroller's Office has returned $450,776,028.09 to 692 Texas cities since their sales tax was enacted. Every penny has been accounted for. His records are verified by the State Auditor's Department to insure absolute accuracy. The Texas Research League has proclaimed Calvert's office one of the most outstanding in the country in accounting and administration.

VOTE FOR INTEGRITY

The only things "old fashioned" about Bob Calvert are the virtues of honesty and integrity which he considers vital for a person in a position of such public trust. On the other hand, his runoff opponent, who has had six marriages, four divorces and one annulment, was fired from the Comptroller's Department last November after being convicted of aggravated assault on a female.

*"But . . . I couldn't believe
she could win
the whole thing!"*

Sure I knew Texas needed something better. But then, like so many, I only felt the choice was among the other three. After all, all the experts said she didn't have a chance. The polls said she couldn't possibly win. And none of the big shots were for her. How was I to know?

Yeah, I voted in the first primary . . . voted, you might say, for a 'second choice'. I didn't know Texas could win the whole thing - real reform, honest officials and a government at last that just worked for us - the people.

So June 3 I'm voting again. And this time I'm voting for the whole thing -
